STRESSES NEED FOR PEACE

Declares He'll Not Be Respon-

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 22.—Stanley Baldwin, British premier, today declared that he would not be responsible for the government unless a vote of confidence was given to his administration.

Baldwin, in a speech in the House of Commons, said that the government's policy was to maintain peace and to strengthen the British Empire.

He said that the government was not responsible for the situation in Europe unless it was given the power to do what was necessary to maintain peace.

BUDGET TANGLE MORE KNOTTED

Restoration of Most Items Predicted If New Bill Is Forced Through

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23.—Resolutions of the biennial appropriations bill entered a new and more complicated stage today.

The house finance committee's invitation to Ohio government representatives to help revision virtually binding itself to revision on the basis of survey recommendations of $14,000,000 in economies created a triple tie.

Tentative restoration now total $22,000.

The invitation forced by Republican members calls for assistance in adjusting the new budget so as to come within the total amount left by the governor in the original appropriations bill.

Seeks $22,000 More

Yet the revised bill now calls for $22,000 more in restoration than the $15,000 originally announced.

Gov. Davey has intimated strongly he will stand for nothing like $10,000,000 in restoration.

Two survey members were scheduled to tell the committee today how recommendations of their survey would be executed. They are Dr. Philip F. Reed, vice chairman of the welfare section, and D. C.
Feller, treasurer.

Observers predicted restoration of most of the items vetoed for 1936. If Republican and anti-administration Democratic members of the finance committee could force preparation of a complete new 1936 budget. But survey recommendations detailing possible economies of more than $14,000,000 may prepare cuts in other appropriations.

Estimate Scrutinized

The survey's $14,000,000 estimate is under scrutiny.

Carens' assertion touched off barrage and counter barrage.
Herbert Lape, chairman of a survey, how about it? Committee demanded to know why Gov. Davey had not executed more of the recommendations.

Davey replied that some survey reports had broken faith with him and had been given the studious color of an attack on his administration. Lape countered with an assertion that Davey had delayed action on recommendations for political reasons.

State Welfare Director Margaret Altman started a new controversy with a declaration that the survey is a stretch in the nostrils of every fair minded citizen.

Davey Lauds Survey

Gov. Davey, who appointed her, then declared the survey has done a fine piece of work and promised to carry out every workable suggestion.

Chairman Julian W. Schwellenbaum of Putnam of the house finance committee opposing calling in the survey to assist in revision of the budget bill said some of the recommendations are very "Utopian."

HILL OUTLINES PLATFORM AT PARTY RALLY

Democratic Mayoralty Nominee Makes Three Promises in Talk

FLETCHER ON PROGRAM

Says National Issue Is "Human Rights or Property Rights Others Speak

An audience of approximately 400 at a Democratic rally in Schwinger's hall last night heard talks by Gene Hill, the party candidate for mayor who voiced three promises he said he will carry out if elected and by Congressman Brooks Fletcher who declared the principal issue in the 1936 national election will be human rights versus property rights.

Other speakers were Councilman William M. Fabian seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket, Council President T. J. Freericks, also a candidate for reelection and Sylvester Larkin, candidate for municipal judge.

Henry A. Mickey presided as chairman and introduced the speakers. The rally was opened by Clifford B. Stoll who said it was sponsored by the Marion County Democratic club of which he is president. The Women's Democratic club and the Younger Voters Democratic club. A dinner preceded the talks.

Hill's Promises

During the course of his talk Gene Hill announced three definite promises to voters. If they like me to direct the affairs of the city during the next two years.

(1) He declared that the persons he would appoint to head various city departments would live within the appropriations made for their collection of bills and that there would be no over-spending.

(2) He said he would take the city hospital out of politics.

(3) He asserted that past due hospital bills owed by those who can pay them will be collected and that collection of bills contracted in the future will be paid.

Hill opened his talk with a plea for harmony within the party to elect the state of Democratic nominee. Calling citizens stockholders in the city he said he felt he is well qualified to be hired by the people to run their business.

Many Economies Needed

He pointed to what he declares to be needed economies in management of the city to reduce indebtedness and asserted the city departments have not been living within the appropriations made for them by city council.

I promise, said the men appointed to those departments if I am mayor will live within the appropriations that there will be no over-spending, he said.

Hill scoffed at a statement he said Dr. Frederick C. Smith Republican candidate for mayor made promising to balance the city

WAR GOODS EXPORTS FROM U. S. INCREASE

Shipments of Guns and Ammunition Small, However with Italy Buying None

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Substantial gains in United States exports of materials useful for war with large proportions going to Italy were shown today by department of commerce figures comparing September and August trade.

Movements of actual guns and ammunition however continued small and the figures showed no purchases in that category by Italy.

Cotton linters useful for explosives totaled 9,289,000 pounds in September against 7,031,000 pounds in August. Italy took 736, 731 pounds of the September total.

Iron and steel scrap metal shipments moved up from 156,685 tons in August to 170,486 tons in September of which Italy took 40,432 tons. Total copper ingot shipments dropped from 56,605,000 pounds to 34,661,000 pounds—Italy taking 5, 682,000 pounds of the September exports.

Exports of trucks and buses declined from 9,957 to 7,081 but truck engine shipments increased from 447 to 542. Italy and Italian Africa took 242 last month. Italy and Italian Africa took about a thousand trucks.

Benzol, a chemical from which many explosives are derived, was dropped from 2,337,000 gallons to 526,000 gallons—Italy taking none of September's shipments but nearly 2,000,000 of August's.

September shipments of explosives were 1,003,000 pounds against 735,000 in August. September machine gun shipments were 149 against 91. Explosive shells dropped from 22,375 pounds in September to 3,185 in August. Italy took none of the three items.

By The Associated Press
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 23.—
Willie Saunders, famous 20-year-old jockey, today admitted riding in the Kentucky death car which ended the life of Mrs. Evelyn Saunders, 25, of Marion, Ohio.

Police in Louisville also sought Tony Sant, 26, an exercise boy and former jockey reported seen with Saunders a few hours before the party which preceded Mrs. Saunders' death.

In his statement to newspaper men made in the presence of O. Neal and William S. Hildner, an attorney who was with the jockey, Saunders said he was in the back seat of his car and did not know if it struck Mrs. Saunders.

SELASSIE LAUDS HOARE

Expresses Satisfaction With Britain's Plea and Warning to Mussolini

By The Associated Press

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 20.—Ethiopia stepped up its defense against the Italian invasion to fever pitch today with 20,000 more warriors girding themselves for an immediate departure to the northern front.

At the same time members of the government and Emperor Haile Selassie expressed the greatest satisfaction at the speech of the British foreign secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, particularly for his appeal to Premier Mussolini of Italy for peace and for his declaration that neither the League of Nations nor civilization will condone a multiple breach of treaties.

The emperor also was said to be greatly pleased with Britain's decision to apply the League of Nations convention by not allowing war ships and merchant ships to remain in British ports over 24 hours.

The minister of war, Ras Mulugeta, who left the capital yesterday at the head of another powerful force of 8,000, was reported well on his way to Dessalegn, the site selected for Ethiopia's last stand.

A third great body of braves, 200,000 strong, surged down the valley of the Webb Shihel river under the command of Ras Demeq, son in law of Emperor Haile Selassie, to meet the southern Italian army under Gen. Rudolf Graziani.

Supplies Provided
A requisitioning commission drawn up to draft supplies for the defending forces went into action. It asked the emperor for a fund of $50,000 silver thalers to pay for commandeered goods. The requisitioning will be confined at first to the capital and later extended gradually throughout the empire.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that more than 250 Italians had died of fever and thirst in the Mount Musasa All district of the central sector.

Because of lack of water and the fact that the tribesmen of the savage Danakil desert area had killed all the water buffalo, Italian planes were thus reported busy turning troops to the shelter of Italy's colony of Eritrea.

Defeat Report Denied
Dedjazmach Ayulu, a right hand man of Ras Seyoum, Ethiopian commander-in-chief in the north and military chief of Walaita, telephoned the emperor that he was alive and well and denied reports that he had suffered a setback from the Italians.

Other advisers from the north said Ethiopian authorities had divided the estates of Ras Haile Selassie's cousin, Governor Makale, who deserted to the Italian side, seemingly making easier their anticipated advance south of Addis Ababa.

Gugusa properties were said to have been apportioned among a few loyal chiefs and the Ethiopian Red Cross.

Besides the American physicians who have been in Ethiopia since the outbreak of the conflict, a further group of foreign doctors was expected here shortly.

DAVEY MAY KEEP

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Gov. Davey has two 12-cylinder cars on a loan.

He bought one for $5,000 at the start of his term in Cleveland agency. He got another five weeks ago when the first was laid up for repairs but he may keep it.

The governor obtained the automobile as a loan when his car was sent to the factory to have the spring shackles fixed and Francis Poulson, state Democratic chairman.

The governor's chauffeur likes the automobile so well that I think the governor will buy it.

Rotary Club Hears Talk on New Marion Industry

Value and Wide Variety of Soy Bean Products Explained by Official of Old Fort Mills, Inc.

The vast market prospect of the soy bean industry which will have a branch operating in Marion within the next few weeks was featured to members of the Rotary Club in their weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding yesterday.

The picture was presented in an address by G. A. Holland, vice president of Old Fort Mills, Inc., the new company which will operate the soy bean plant now under construction on the site of the old Stuebner mill building in the east section of the city.

Telling of the numerous home industrial and medicinal uses to which the soy bean has been already successfully applied, Mr. Holland said it presents still greater possibilities of development among continuing expansion of companies engaged in marketing the various products obtained through mill operations.

In this process of development, schools, colleges, manufacturing concerns and government bureaus are continually carrying on experiments and research. Mr. Holland told his audience.

Rich in Nutrients
The soy bean is said to contain more nutrients than any other grain. It is the only vegetable or grain that we know which comes close to providing a complete diet. Its protein characteristics are the same as found in meat.

$350 DAMAGE CAUSED AS TRUCKS SIDESWIPE

Accident Occurs on Route 4

Two trucks with semi-trailers sideswiped on route 4 eight miles south of Marion at 11:30 last night. Damage estimated at $350 was caused to a southbound truck driven by Eugene Turner of near Marionville when it struck a northbound truck owned by the Union County Farm Bureau.

Continued on after the accident, Lewis Burns of near Marysville, owner of the damaged truck, was following in a passenger car and pursued the Union county truck to Marion where he stopped it and informed the drivers of the seriousness of the accident.

HARD OF HEARING GROUP ENTERTAINED

Social Program Features Lot-Acquainted Meeting

A social gathering in the form of a lot-acquainted meeting was held in connection with the study hour when members of the Marion Society for the Hard of Hearing met last night in their club room at the S. C. A. One new member, Henry Palmage of Mt. Pleasant, was enrolled.

The meeting opened the study sessions in the reading which will be held each Tuesday night at the S. C. A. Afternoon meetings also are held each Friday afternoon. The classes are open to all persons interested in the work being done for the rehabilitation of the hard of hearing.

The Marion society is making a special effort to enroll new members this week as a part of its observance of National Hearing Week. Interested persons are urged to join the classes as early as possible in order to carry on the lessons.

GANGSTER MURDERED AND BODY SET AFIRE

Seventh To Die in War for Control of Slot Machine, Shakedown Rackets.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Underworld cronies poured gasoline over the body of a slain gangster and set it on fire in a burning automobile. He was the seventh to die in a war for control of the slot machine, shakedown and shakedown rackets.

Among other demonstrations of the nutritive value of soy beans referred to by the speaker was success achieved in the making of milk from them. He said the product which originated on the west coast was put through tests at Harvard university, where it was shown that use of the milk cured 70 per cent of a group of malnourished cases.

Tests Among Workers
An account was also given of tests made among workmen in a section of England who were placed on a diet of bread which was 70 per cent soy bean flour. Following the tests, Mr. Holland said it was shown that health and vitality of the men was as good as when they had been eating their customary daily variety of foods.

In addition to the food properties of soy beans and use of the oils as frying fats, shortening and other cooking essentials, the audience was told of the products used in manufacture of paint and other materials required by industry. The bean cake he said is used successfully by paper manufacturers for making binders and also as one of the ingredients in paper coating.

That farmers in this section of the state are greatly interested in the new culture is clearly evidenced from the numerous inquiries received daily at the temporary headquarters of Old Fort Mills, Inc. in the chamber of commerce offices here, Mr. Holland said. Every day he told the audience.

Field for Development
Ohio, according to figures presented by Mr. Holland, provides a field for extensive future development in growing of soy beans. This year government records report the state has 500,000 acres under cultivation as compared with 1,800,000 in Illinois where this crop came to be one of the major crops. There the greater soil bean production is as prevalent as corn is in Ohio with every farmer planting a field of substantial proportions.

Forecasting future agricultural trends in Ohio, Mr. Holland predicted that from now on there will be a larger increase in soy beans in Illinois than in corn. In 1938 the average yield in Illinois was 1.5 bushels an acre as compared with 1.2 in Ohio.

Even though development and use of this farm product is well advanced in some sections of the United States, Germany was declared to be two generations ahead of us.

World's Oldest Crop
Mr. Holland prefaced his discussion of the bean in this country with a history of its origin and use in foreign countries. It was declared to be the oldest crop in the world, dating back 4,000 years in the ancient Chinese farmers' original seedlings came to this country from China and Manchuria and in the latter country there are now 155,000 square miles under cultivation.

The first seedlings were brought here in 1804 and early development was comparatively slow with less than 200,000 acres planted in 1917. This year the planting totals 6,000,000 acres.

Following Mr. Holland's address a brief talk was given by P. Turner, president of Old Fort Mills, Inc., who voiced appreciation for the cordial reception and cooperation given him and his associates by Marion residents and gave assurance that every possible effort will be made to develop an industry that will be of substantial benefit to the city and its surrounding territory.

Both Mr. Holland and Mr. Turner have had long experience in the soy bean industry. They formerly held executive positions with Allied Mills, Inc., one of the largest soy bean concerns in the country.

Follies Chorine Looks to Nature for Beauty Aid

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Young women, in the opinion of Harry E. Kaufman, selector of chorines, have ceased trying to thwart nature—and consequently are becoming more beautiful.

"Not only are they putting on flesh where it belongs," he said today as he reviewed a parade of purchasing agents for the new edition of the Ziegfeld Follies "but they are letting their hair grow naturally in both color and length."

Kaufman believes the girls in the forthcoming show will be as lovely as those personally nominated by the late Flo Ziegfeld.

He told about the 1938 edition of the Ziegfeld girls.

The tallest, 5 feet 10 inches in height, 115 to 120 pounds, 17 to 23 years of age, they average and (a most important feature) in walking grace they are superior to the girls of Ziegfeld's time. Other statistics:

The girls will be predominantly curvilinear (a feature, wearing a brass violin or hoop glass, L. P. E. figures are definitely out).

Bearing in mind the observation that the first two rows of the chorus will feature brunettes.

Unless something extraordinary happens in the next two weeks for talent only three red heads will be in the show. Kaufman has issued three calls for girls and about 2,000 have responded.

Among the populations of the occupied territory, Gen. De Bono informed Rome, Italy resumed its completely normal aspects.

Proclaim Religious Freedom
The Italian authorities in the occupied area about Addis Ababa, formally proclaimed religious liberty and equal rights for all religious sects.

Proclamations were posted on the doors of 200 Moslem churches in 15 communal areas about Addis Ababa.

It seems the Italian authorities could have hitherto suffered a certain disadvantage. One of them was a prohibition against owning land.

Courier Galeazzo Ciano, son in law of Duce and foreign minister, gave a graphic description of some of the bombing flights over the Addis Ababa and Addis Ababa area of northern Ethiopia.

The giant tri-motored planes that drop small bombs which explode with the effect of a giant hand, the cause of the conflict related. The enemy there is leveling his position and number. Then we swoop down to between 100 and 350 feet bombing and machine gunning almost hourly.

CAROLINA ADMIRERS WELCOME ROOSEVELT

President Lands at Charleston, S. C. After Three Weeks Fishing Journey.

By The Associated Press
CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 20.—Southern admirers turned out to greet President Roosevelt's welcome to the South.

The slim gray cruiser Houston, which took Mr. Roosevelt from California to Carolina by way of the Panama canal, reached the harbor last night after escaping a Caribbean hurricane.

Looking over latest mail and reports from Washington, the President remained aboard while the vessel pulled into the navy yard for an early afternoon landing of his party.

South Carolinians assembled from all parts of the state to hear a speech by Mr. Roosevelt, to whom they gave a 40-minute ovation for his speech in 1932. Delight from other southern states also was here.

50 AGENTS ON TRAIL OF RELIEF GRAFTERS

Rivers and Harbors Funds
Slashed To Increase WPA
Projects Allotments

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The federal government put 50 special investigators on the trail of work relief grafters today.

This action was one of several developments as the administration sought to speed a job making campaign. Others included:

1.—The $14,000,000 rivers and harbors allotment was slashed by $15,000,000 to give additional work relief projects.

Included in this cut was $500,000 taken from an initial allotment of $10,000,000 to start construction of the Panamaquity bay water project to harness the tide and generate power.

2.—Aubrey Williams, acting WPA administrator, reiterated his prediction that the federal direct relief or dole machinery will be liquidated in most of the states during November.

3.—A survey by the federal relief administration disclosed that state governments are increasing their expenditures for the destitute.

Most of the special investigators instructed to trace down grafting are former G-men. Acting under the direction of Dallas, Tex., head of the WPA, they will work out of Washington and 13 regional offices.

OLD CHURCH NOW USED FOR THEATER

By United Press
WILLIAMS RAY, Wis.—A 47-year-old Mormon church near here is being remodeled into a rural theater by the Belfry Theater Players, an amateur organization. Members of the players group undertook the remodeling themselves using material from an old house razed here after a summer's season proved original seating of the church inadequate for the crowds which attended the productions. The church was closed by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints in 1930 because of lack of membership.

THEATER WORK NEARLY DONE

Celebration Program To Follow Ohio Improvements, Manager Announces.

Redecorating of the Ohio theater lobby, remodeling of the theater front and installing of a new heating plant were virtually completed yesterday.

The theater will be in readiness for a celebration in about two weeks, when new seats have been installed, according to J. J. Huchner, manager.

Five hundred new seats will be installed on the lower floor of the main auditorium within 10 days or two weeks, and redecorating of the front of the interior of the auditorium and the men's and women's rooms is expected to be completed within that time.

The front of the theater has been decorated in black and silver to which decorative touches of Chinese red will be added. The underside of the marquee has been covered and relighted, the ceiling extending back to the entrance doors which were moved into the lobby approximately four feet after two large marble pillars were removed from the entrance way to the theater. Two black and silver glass-enclosed and lighted display frames have been placed at the entrance, augmented by a modernistic neon display frame in black and silver.

The walk of the interior of the lobby above the entrance doors have been covered with light tan and fawn gray panels and the ceiling and space above the doors into the auditorium have been covered with the same material and colors in a diamond-shaped pattern. The wall covering is curved upwards within a foot of the ceiling to form a trough for indirect lighting in colors. The Chinese red decorative note will be repeated in the lobby. New display panels will decorate the lobby walls.

Redecorating of the front of the interior of the auditorium will include indirect lighting and probably replacing of the lecture work at the rear of the seats with glass panels, Mr. Huchner said.

FATE OF SPAGIANI IN HANDS OF JURY

Spagiani's testimony took approximately a half hour.

Through a series of questions Warner led the defendant from his arrival in New York City about 1906 at the age of 17 to his subsequent arrival in Marion about 1920. He told of his employment as a railroad section worker in several states and of two return trips to Italy to visit his parents. On his last trip he married but testified that his wife is now dead. About 1920 when Harding was a candidate for President, Spagiani said he "came to Marion to see what was going on. And just stayed. Previous to that he had served a few months in the army during the war. After coming here he opened a barber shop, following the trade he had worked at in the army."

Q—Where were you living on Aug. 3, 1935? A—At 890 Kenton avenue.

Q—Had you ever been arrested? A—Once for selling liquor.

Q—Were you arrested twice for selling liquor? A—Yes, maybe twice.

Q—Did you know Jess Yoder? A—Yes.

Q—Did you know Harlan Coffman? A—Little bit. Not much.

Q—When Jess and Coffman came to your house Aug. 3, what did you do? A—Played poker.

Q—Who suggested the poker game? A—Jess.

Q—What happened? A—We got in an argument.

Q—Who started the argument? A—Jess did.

Q—In the course of the argument what did you do. A—I went upstairs to get a smoke.

Q—What else did you get? A—A gun.

Q—Where did you get it? A—In a little hole in the floor.

Q—Did you try to stop the argument? A—I try to stop it. Jess say come on and play.

Q—Then what happened? A—Argument start again.

Q—Accused of Cheating

Q—What was said? A—Some thing. Jess said I was cheating. He said I was dumb and he would take it out of my hide.

Q—What did he do? A—He came at me.

Q—What did you do? A—I pulled the gun and told him to stay back.

Q—Did he stop? A—He came on and I backed into the dining room against the wall.

Q—What did Jess do? A—He grabbed me by the throat and choked me on the floor. He tried to get the gun and it went off.

Q—After the shooting, what did Jess do? A—He said get a doctor. I went up stairs to change shirts and when I came back Jess was gone.

Attorney Warner turned the witness over to Prosecutor Michel.

Q—You say you were arrested only twice on liquor charges? A—Yes.

On May 23, 1928, were you arrested? A—Yes.

On Oct. 10, 1928, were you arrested? A—No.

On Nov. 9, 1934, were you arrested? A—That was the last time.

On Nov. 10, 1934, were you arrested? A—That was same charge.

How often did you have card games at your place? A—Only when we got together.

Q—About every Saturday night? A—About.

Q—Who furnished the liquor this night (Aug. 3)? A—Lowry might have.

Q—Didn't you sell Coffman a round of drinks? Didn't he pay you? A—Guess he did.

Q—You sold Yoder a drink? A—Maybe I did.

Q—You had liquor in the back yard. A—No.

Q—What was in those jug? A—There was none.

Q—You knew Yoder was boisterous when drunk? A—Yes.

Q—Then why did you put him in liquor. A—One drink won't hurt nobody.

Q—Why did you let Yoder come to your house? The witness shrugged.

Q—Why didn't you put him out? A—I couldn't.

Q—What happened before you went up stairs? A—Well, he started an argument.

Q—Then you decided to kill him? A—No, I didn't.

Q—Why did you let him stay? A—I was afraid of him.

Q—You had been drinking. A—A little, not much.

Q—What did Jess do while you were playing cards? A—He called me names.

Q—Would you shoot a man for calling you names? A—I didn't mean to shoot him.

Q—Did he have a knife or gun? A—No.

Q—Why did you go into the dark room if you were afraid of him? A—It was the only place I could go.

Q—What happened in the dark room? A—I jumped on me and knocked me down.

Scene Reenacted

At this point in the cross examination the prosecutor directed Spagiani to lie on the floor in the same position he was when the shot was fired. Spagiani laid down before the jury and demonstrated the position the gun was held when the bullet was discharged.

The questioning continued.

Q—How long have you had this gun? A—A couple of years.

Q—You had it loaded with four shells? A—That's all I had.

Q—Did you have the gun cocked? A—No.

Q—Every time you got mad you pulled the gun on some body, didn't you? A—No.

Q—Did you threaten Pauline Lowry? The defendant smiled. A—No, I never had no trouble with her.

Q—Why did you keep the gun loaded? A—Well, if I had it I might as well have it loaded.

Q—If the shooting was accidental, why didn't you tell the police at the police station? A—I was all excited.

Q—You were at the hospital on Monday? You heard Jess say you shot him and you didn't say anything? A—I didn't want to start an argument at the hospital.

Q—You didn't tell any one Jess was on top of you? A—I told them all in the jail.

Q—Why didn't you tell the police? A—They never asked me.

After a brief redirect and recross examination the defense rested its case.

Recalled Witnesses Called

Prosecutor Michel then recalled a number of his witnesses for rebuttal testimony. They included Captain Mackinn, Mrs. Stinson, Dr. Yeager and Dr. Axthelm.

They were questioned regarding the presence or absence of powder burns on Yoder's shirt and body. All testified that there were no such burns visible. Michel's purpose in this move was to refute Spagiani's story that the gun was fired at close range while Yoder had him on the floor.

Attorney Warner asked if the fact that the shirt was dirty and blood soaked might not prevent them from seeing burns on the cloth. Mackinn and Mrs. Stinson said it might but all the witnesses said there were no burns on the shirt.

First Witnesses

The prosecution placed its first witnesses on the stand immediately after the trial resumed yesterday following the noon recess. In the forenoon the jury, which had been seated at 10:30 a. m., heard opening statements of the prosecution and defense and then was taken to visit the scene of the shooting.

Spagiani waived the right to accompany the jury to his former home at 806 Kenton avenue, where shortly after midnight on Sunday, Aug. 3, he is alleged to have fired the shot that caused Yoder's death at the City hospital Aug. 8. This only evidence of the tragedy still visible in the house, now occupied by another family, is the groove cut by the death bullet in the door and wall of the dining room.

As the 12 state witnesses told their stories yesterday afternoon two questions, on which largely rested the final determination of the case, kept bobbing up. They noted the shot was fired while both men were standing, about two steps apart. Dr. Axthelm testified the bullet entered Yoder's left side, passed through the body, and after striking a rib in the back took an upward course which carried it to the wall and ceiling.

In the trial reconstruction Dr. Axthelm Defense Attorney Warner sought to refute this explanation by showing that it lacked the chief requisite that would qualify it as a dying declaration. To qualify as such, questioning brought out, the maker must have been informed by qualified medical attendants, and he must believe, that he is about to die.

In his statement Yoder named Spagiani as his assailant but declared repeatedly that he was going to get well.

The first witness called by Prosecutor Michel was Everett Lowry of 346 Bennett street. Under direct examination Lowry testified that on the night of the shooting he had gone to the Spagiani residence about 12:30 or 1 o'clock. He said that when he went into the kitchen Spagiani, Yoder and Harlan Coffman were playing poker.

Argue Over Dime

Under the guidance of Prosecutor Michel his testimony led up to the quarrel between Yoder and Spagiani. He said the argument started when Spagiani won a pot from which Yoder had a dime in change coming. Spagiani couldn't make change but told Jess he would give it to him as soon as he could, the witness said.

Q—Did this satisfy Jess? A—No. He said he wanted the money then, and so would I.

Q—What did Jess do? A—He got up and started around the table toward Spagiani and said he would get it or else.

Q—Then what happened? A—Dominic pulled the gun and said,

"Cut it out or I'll shoot."

Q—What else happened? A—Jess said if any one pulls a gun on me I'll make him use it.

Lowry then described how the Spagiani backing away and Yoder following, went from the kitchen into the darkened dining room.

Q—What did you do then? A—The same thing any guy with an ounce of brains would do—I went home.

Hears About

Lowry testified that he had returned to his car parked near the house and was about to drive away when he heard a gun shot. Further questioning brought the information that Spagiani had on other occasions threatened to shoot Yoder during the course of card games and that Lowry had seen Spagiani draw a revolver on numerous occasions.

In a brief cross examination of Lowry, Attorney Warner again brought out that Yoder had said he would make Spagiani use the gun when he drew it in the course of the card game. He testified that as the men backed away from the card table Yoder pushed Spagiani to the floor.

"When Yoder and Dominic backed into the dining room, you disappeared?" Attorney Warner asked. "Yes sir," the witness replied.

Mrs. Lowry Testifies

Mrs. Everett Lowry, the wife of the first witness, was next called. In brief testimony she told of waiting in the car while her husband went into the Spagiani kitchen. She said that shortly after her husband came back to the car she heard a shot which might have been a gun shot. She also said that she knew Spagiani carried a revolver and that she had seen him "pull" it.

The prosecutor's next witness was Harlan Coffman of 755 Creston avenue. It was Coffman who held the third hand in the penny-ante game.

Coffman told of going to the Spagiani home on the night of the shooting for the poker game and described the start of the argument over the dime in change.

Q—Did anyone leave the room while you were playing? A—Yes. Dominic went upstairs to get a cigar.

Q—When he came back did you see a firearm? A—Yes. Dominic had a revolver in his shirt.

When Spagiani returned the argument was renewed, the witness said, with Yoder again demanding his change.

Q—What did "aginal" say? A—He said I'll give it to you in a minute.

Q—What else happened? A—Jess said he didn't want it in a minute, he wanted it now.

Q—What else? A—Then Dominic pulled the gun and Jess said "You haven't got guts enough to shoot. You . . . I'll make you use it."

Q—Then what did you do? A—Lowry said, "Let's get out of here," and we left.

Find Yoder Wounded

Coffman, as did Lowry, said that he heard the report of a gun shortly after he left the house. The remainder of his direct testimony dealt with his return to the Spagiani home and the finding of Yoder, wounded and bleeding, on the porch of the residence of Mrs. Hazel Impson. Yoder's divorced wife, a few doors from the Spagiani residence.

"What was Dominic doing when you returned?" the prosecutor asked. A—He was carrying Jugs from the house.

Q—What did you see? A—There was a lot of blood.

Q—What did Dominic say? A—He said somebody hit him on the nose.

Attorney Warner then took Coffman for cross examination.

Q—Who started the poker game that night? A—Jess.

Q—Did Dominic take any rake-off on the game? A—No.

Q—He just furnished a place for you boys to play? A—Yes.

Q—Yoder was quite a bit larger than Dominic, wasn't he? A—Quite a bit.

Q—And Yoder called Dominic vicious names? A—Yes.

Q—He was always abusive when he was losing? A—Yes.

Q—He was always abusing you? A—Yes.

Q—One time he wanted to get some one to help him clean out Dominic's place? A—Yes.

Robert Evans of 751 Creston avenue then was called to the stand for direct examination by the prosecutor. He testified that he had known Spagiani five or six months and that he had watched the card game earlier in the night.

Q—When you went back to the Spagiani house, who were you with? A—Harlan Coffman.

Q—What was Dominic doing? A—He was carrying Jugs out of the house.

Q—What else did you see? A—There was a lot of blood.

Q—What was said? A—I asked Dominic if he shot Jess. He said "No," some one bit him on the nose.

Michel then turned Evans over to the defense attorney for cross examination.

Q—Jess was your father-in-law, wasn't he? A—I wouldn't call him that.

Q—You married his step-daughter? A—Yes.

Q—You took Jess home one night when he wanted to clean out Dominic's place, didn't you? A—Yes.

Other Witnesses

From this point on the state's witnesses consisted of police officers, nurses, physicians and others who have assisted in taking Yoder to the hospital and in searching the Spagiani house.

The first two were Lewis Cunningham, patrolman, and Marie Hughes, who drove the ambulance which took Yoder to the hospital. Their testimony was brief and dealt only with finding the wounded man on the porch at the Impson home and his removal to the hospital.

Henry B. Tong, another patrolman, followed. He told of the arrest of Spagiani shortly after the shooting. He said that when he went to the house the floor of the dining room had been freshly mopped and that there was blood on the wall and curtains in the room. On cross examination he said that he knew nothing of the shooting.

Jess Underhill, patrolman, also had seen the freshly mopped floor and the blood stains on the wall and curtains.

Police Capt. Ora DeWees, one of the first to locate the wounded man and the officer who arrested Spagiani, told of the examination of the dining room and the finding of the bullet marks in the wall and ceiling. He related a conversation with Spagiani at the police station in which the prisoner denied not only shooting Yoder but that there had been a card game.

Q—Did you talk to Spagiani the following night? A—Yes.

Q—What was said? A—The coroner told Spagiani that Jess had died and asked him if he did the shooting. He said yes.

On cross examination DeWees said he did not know how the shooting occurred.

Tells of Finding Gun

Malcolm Severns, grocery deliveryman, who found the revolver in an abandoned liquor cache in an upstairs bedroom, was next called. He related that in going over the house he found a loose board in the floor and that the gun was concealed beneath it. He said he turned the gun over to Patrolman Fred Norton.

Norton followed Severns to the stand. He confirmed Severns' account of the finding of the gun. He was also questioned by Prosecutor Michel regarding a visit to Yoder at the hospital.

Q—Who was with you at the hospital? A—Mackinn and Spagiani.

Q—Did you have any conversation with Yoder and Dominic? A—Yoder said Dominic shot him.

Q—What did Dominic say? A—Maybe so.

Q—Did Yoder say anything about the position they were in when he was shot? A—He said they were standing.

Norton was then taken on cross examination.

Q—Was there a nurse in the room when you talked to Yoder? A—Mrs. Stinson.

Q—Did Yoder say he would get up and get that dago yet? A—No.

Dr. M. F. Axthelm, county coroner, described the course of the bullet through Yoder's body, as determined by a postmortem at the Lucas funeral home in Marion. The examination was made with the assistance of Dr. Floyd Yeager.

He said the bullet went through the body, hit a rib and was deflected upward.

On cross examination Attorney Warner asked him the position of the body would have anything to do with the course of the bullet. He answered, "I don't know."

Mackinn on Stand

Police Capt. E. C. Mackinn was called by Prosecutor Michel.

Q—Were you called to the City hospital on Aug. 3? A—Yes.

Q—What did you do there? A—I helped carry a man from the ambulance to the operating room.

Q—Who was the man? A—Jess Yoder.

At this point the prosecutor handed the witness a shirt which was identified as the one taken from Yoder at the hospital. Mackinn pointed to the two bullet holes made as the bullet entered and left the body.

Q—Was any attempt made at the hospital to take a dying declaration from Yoder? A—Yes.

We took a statement and then Yoder said he wasn't going to die. The prosecutor then handed Mackinn the statement taken at the hospital by Robert Hedges, court reporter. It was later admitted as evidence without objection from the defense. The statement consisted of a conversation between Yoder and police officers in which the wounded man answered a series of questions with "yes" or "no."

Q—Did you have any conversation with Spagiani at the police station the night of his arrest? A—Yes.

Q—What was it? A—He denied that he had been at home and that he had been playing cards.

Q—Did he bear any marks of violence? A—No.

Q—Did you have any conversation with Spagiani at the police station the night of his arrest? A—Yes.

Because of the "common cold" the "common cold" doctors will tell you, is the cause of more serious trouble than anything else. It is a person who is in a pneumonia jacket today had but a "common cold" yesterday! A cold is not a cold. Take no chances with your treatment. Treat a cold with a cold medicine not a "cure all". Treat it also with an internal medicine. A cold is an internal infection. Loox's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is, first, a cold tablet made expressly for colds. Second, it is internal medicine, fourfold in effect. Here's what it does: First, it opens the bowels, an absolute step in treating a cold.

Second, it checks the fever in the system, a vital step. Third, it relieves the headache and fever. Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack. When you feel a cold coming on, trust to no makeshift methods. Adopt the course of safety and take Loox's Bromo Quinine. Taken promptly, it will often break up a cold in 24 hours and that's the speedy action you want. Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. It is sold by all drug stores. The few pennies' cost may save you a lot in worry and medical bills. Say "no" to a substitute.

Your Health
BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Earache. Earache is one of the most common of all our complaints. Too often, especially in childhood, it is accepted as something trivial and is treated by home remedies. As a result, in many instances, serious and permanent damage results from unscientific treatment of this delicate organ. In spite of repeated warnings, children and adults, too, continue to insert foreign bodies, use of needles, hairpins and cotton swabs into the ear. The adult will do this in an attempt to relieve itching, or to remove wax from the ear canal. Children resort to this practice, making a playhouse of the ear.

A child will poke a pea, bean, bead, stone or piece of chalk into the ear canal. The parent is not told and the child does not complain of pain until some time later. Many cases of temporary, as well as permanent, deafness can be traced to this accident. It is dangerous to allow any foreign object to remain in the ear. But it must be removed with extreme care and gentleness. Always have a physician do this, as he has the necessary instruments for removing the object without hurting the eardrum.

An excessive amount of cerumen, wax, in the ear, in another common annoyance. Bear in mind that when wax hardens it becomes impacted, and then acts as a foreign body. Never try to remove wax from your own ear. There is always the possibility of doing real harm. Like a foreign body, it should only be removed by one trained in this work. Never pick or fuss with the ear or place any sharp or blunt instrument in the ear passage. Remember that the ear is a delicate structure and can easily be damaged. This damage may lead to impaired hearing and even profound deafness.

The Red Cross Carries On

This is one of a series of 10 articles regarding the Red Cross and its work to be published in The Star beginning with this issue. The Red Cross chapter will start its work on Nov. 11.

BY DAVID S. INGALLS
Chairman, Ohio Red Cross Committee
Long before the United States had entered the World War the American Red Cross was in action. War was declared in August, and on September 12 the Red Cross had her first consignment on the sea. A ship, specially equipped, painted white and whose name was simply, "Red Cross," left New York for Falmouth, England. It was truly a ship of mercy, sent to relieve not one nation, not one faction, but all nations and all sufferers. The trim ship, hailed at night by a suspicious British cruiser, flashed her identification; an identification intelligible to any human, speaking any language. High up on her mast was a red cross, and in the shape of a cross. This signal flashed across the open sea gave the ship of mercy the only pass she needed. The agile British cruisers sped the "Red Cross" on her way with a heartfelt God-speed.

This was in the early months of the world struggle. Since then, the Red Cross has carried on its work, medical provisions and hospital equipment across the Atlantic during the next four years. Every available nurse was shipped to Europe. It was a war time measure, an emergency which the "Great Mother on Earth" met as she meets all other emergencies with mercy and compassion. American

The Stars Say--
For Thursday, Oct. 24

WHILE THIS day may offer splendid advantages, with business and commerce flourishing through the hearty cooperation of superiors or those in places of power and authority, yet there is a menace of neutralizing this through rash, impetuous or quarrelsome behavior. Wary restraint in words, there is promise of benefit, through shrewd correspondence, secret agreements or connivance, and also there is encouragement for speculation, gambling or games of chance.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of some excellent prospects, with employment, big business and finances under favorable rule, but this may be jeopardized by impulsive, reckless and quarrelsome conduct. This should be suppressed in favor of tact, strategy and diplomacy, with secret and confidential undertakings flourishing. Speculation and games of chance should thrive. A child born on this day may be lively, energetic, talented and particularly popular with employers and those in power. However, it may be impulsive, rash and tempestuous at times.

STOMACH UPSET

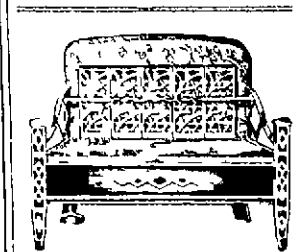

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of trying to patch up a poor digestion they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged intestines or constipation.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets help the intestines in a soothing healing way. When the bowels are part forming their natural functions people truly suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a flat, listless, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, feeling unattractive, indigestion, try Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for laxatives.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound known to them by their olive color. They do work without causing cramps or pain. All druggists 15c 30c and 60c.

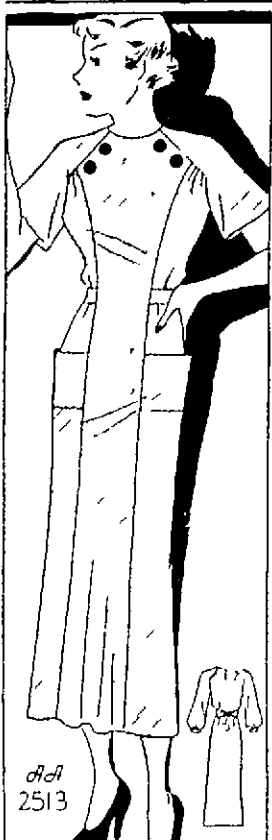

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief—adv.

WOMEN FIND SMILE HOUSE PROOF AFFIRMING AND PRACTICAL

It looks like a very business-like affair, doesn't it? anything but a mere drape and flimsy smooth—without bulk or weight. It's once it's in place. Too it keeps its efficiency from the young collarless neckline and short sleeves right down to the hem and the housewife who wears size 44 will discover a wealth of slender lines in that straight belted center panel. Razlin sleeves tend to trim down a heavy shoulder and at the same time provide a roomy free-swing armhole that's easy to fit and all this in the washable cottons are practical—percale, broadcloth and flannel to mention a few.

Pattern 2513 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 2 1/2 yards, 30-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Order your fall and winter edition of Anne Adams pattern book. You'll be thrilled with the smart designs it pictures—clothes for all occasions for all your family. Adorable easy-to-make Christmas gifts too. And helpful advice on being the charming perfectly groomed woman. A look you'll love and a result frequently—all season's pride of home fifteen cents. Pattern sent together twenty-five cents.

Address orders to The Marion Star Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

Sorority Chapter Entertains Guests At Benefit Party

ONE of the first benefits of the fall and winter season was given last evening when members of Beta Gamma chapter of Lambda Chi Omega sorority entertained at bridge in the ballroom at Hotel Harding. The members were jubilant this morning over success of the affair which netted a generous sum for carrying on the chapter's charity work and provided an entertaining evening for its guests. Forty-five tables were filled for cards with awards for high scores at each table. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. Door awards were won by Mrs. Altes Bruckner, Mrs. Ralph Gregg, Mrs. E. C. Driscoll, Mrs. Leo Artz, Mrs. W. E. Hughes, Mrs. J. A. Dodd, Mrs. G. Shambaugh, Miss Elaine Jerow, Miss Alice Green and Miss Mary Crook. Arrangements for the benefit were in charge of a committee headed by Miss Ruth Reid, chairman. Misses Puby Kinsler, Marlene Frick and Miss Thelma Crawford.

BUCYRUS CONCERN SEEKS TO REOPEN

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS, Oct. 23—A meeting of directors of the Henderson T. & Puber Co. is scheduled to be called within the next several days to decide on a course of action in reopening the local plant which closed last Saturday because of a lack of working capital. Officials of the plant revealed that orders are on hand for tires including one order from a Chicago firm for 5,000 tires but funds are not available to operate the plant.

BUCYRUS ENGINEER CLAIMED BY DEATH

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS, Oct. 23—Last rites for John Brown, 81, retired vice president of Central railroad engineer, who died suddenly at the home of his daughter Mrs. L. E. Donnan with her Tuesday will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Wise funeral home. Rev. Roy Long, pastor of First Baptist church, will conduct the service and burial will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

SEVEN SPECIAL ISSUES
ON BALLOTS IN COUNTY

To Pass on Proposals Submitted for Schools and Municipalities

Seven special issues will appear on the ballots in the November election in Marion county. The issues are: a three-mill levy to run five years for the purpose of raising $653.31 annually for school operating purposes; the removal of a three-mill levy to run three years for the purpose of raising $3,500 annually for operating purposes; the Green Camp village school district asks voters to approve a three-mill levy for one year to raise $5,225 for operating purposes; Green Camp formerly had a five-mill levy; The village of Caledonia proposes a two-mill levy for a two-year period to pay for street lighting; The levy would raise $890 annually for two years; The question of whether LaRue village is to have a $9,500 municipal center is to be settled by election; The bonds to be issued would be retired by a levy of 2.85 mills in a minimum period of 10 years with the interest rate at four and one-half per cent.

In WPA projects submitted for Marion county early in September it is planned to purchase the old opera house at a cost of $3,500 and reconstruct and improve it with government and local funds; the latter contribution running approximately $6,000 bringing to $9,500 the total local expenditure. The amount the government will contribute is not yet known.

The first floor of the municipal building would be an auditorium seating 300 persons; comfort stations and rest rooms; a library; council chamber; the village prison and space for storage of village fire equipment which includes two vehicles. Clubs in LaRue already have arranged to supply books for the library, provided the building project goes over.

GENE HILL OUTLINES
PLATFORM AT RALLY

budget I couldn't balance the budget and he couldn't balance the budget. He said Dr. Smith spoke of combining various city functions to save money. The only thing I can see to which he might be referring would be to combine the safety and service departments and that would effect a saving of only $1200 or $1500 a year which is a long way from balancing the budget.

What else does he propose to do to save in operation? Cut the salaries of firemen and policemen when they're working 12 hours a day now for the amounts they do get? Hill asked.

In speaking briefly of the proposed purchase of the property of the Marion Water Co. by the city, Hill declared what he asserted is supposed to be a definite stand by Dr. Smith on the waterworks question.

He quoted the Republican candidate as saying that if the city could obtain lower water rates by buying the property from the water company he would be in favor of buying it but that if the city could have lower rates through the continued operation of the water plant by the private company then he would favor letting them keep it.

If that's a definite stand then I am certainly no judge of one. Hill declared. He said he believes city council has gone far enough into the water question to know the cost of operation and whether the city could operate the plant at present or lower rates.

Defends Contract
In reply to an assertion by Dr. Smith that the contract with the finance companies the city has entered into cannot be broken, Hill said the water contract can be cancelled any time. He recalled that council previously entered into a contract with another finance firm whereby the concern would take the bonds at five per cent interest and that this has been cancelled and the present one entered into at a four and one-half per cent interest rate.

Hill asserted that Dr. Smith in his promise to blow the lid off of the city hall means he will do away with caucus sessions in city council and city departments. The speaker likened the city to a service or social club in which committees are appointed to study a question and report their findings and recommendations to the club members in open meeting. The caucus is the same as a committee meeting in a club, he said. If council didn't caucus instead of threshing every issue out in open meeting they'd never get anything done, he declared.

Hospital Program Outlined
Hill called the City hospital a hospital of which we can be proud. As far as the hospital is concerned, Marion doesn't have to take a back seat to any city in the state of like size, he said.

I will however take the hospital out of politics, he promised. I also promise the people that past due hospital bills owed by those who can pay them will be collected and that any bills contracted in the future will be paid, Hill said.

He said it was "too bad the citizens own hospital has private competition."

In closing Hill said he will try to conduct the affairs of Marion as you would conduct them and I promise a common sense and economical administration.

Fletcher Speaks
Declaring that human rights versus property rights is the issue in national affairs, Congressman Fletcher attacked those he said are seeking to destroy President Roosevelt with a whispering campaign to raise a doubt as to the sanity of the executive and with a plea to save the Constitution.

"That whispering campaign was proved by an investigation in Washington to be a pack of vicious lies," the speaker said. In replying to repeated charges of leaders in the Republican party and American Liberty league that the Roosevelt administration is destroying the liberty guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, Fletcher pointed out that the administration and congress has done nothing at all to the Constitution. He asserted they heard their charges on the fact that a number of measures passed by the present congress and approved by the President have been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court and upon agencies created such as the AAA and NRA.

We have no way of knowing when we pass laws that they are unconstitutional, he said and in fact the members of the supreme court agree as to their constitutionality as shown by five to four decisions that have been made in some cases.

He styled the expression stand by the Constitution as a slogan adopted by a few men in the east who do not understand the constitution and who are not patriotic.

He said the expression is not patriotic. Selfishness is not patriotism. Greed is not patriotism. Torment is not patriotism. Reactionism is not patriotism. Reactionism is not patriotism.

Opposed to Slogan
Fletcher declared the Democratic candidates in Marion to guard against a campaign of slogans. This city of balance the budget, the full dinnerpail and similar catch expressions are invented to catch the votes of people who will not look behind them to find out what program the candidate really has to assert.

If they're trying to trick you with slogans here in Marion I'd advise you to dig up a good slogan of your own. Play the other fellow's game, he urged.

They're looking for a slogan now with which to beat President Roosevelt, he added.

In reply to charges that the federal government is spending too much money Fletcher said he wants to debunk that argument with a few figures. The total indebtedness of this country is approximately 29 billion dollars of which 20 billions were inherited from the Hoover administration and preceding administrations he said. The remaining nine billion run up by the present administration is not all debt but an investment through the Home Owners Loan Corporation and other banking agencies set up by the federal government. Much of this money is loaned to farmers and property owners and will be repaid with interest, he added. Billions of this nine billion debt are assets and not liabilities.

Sure we put out some money for CCC camps to take boys off of the streets and give them a program of rehabilitation but this money is not a waste, the speaker said. He referred to the AAA set up to aid farmers. They're trying to tell you now that the farmers are being regimented—that the AAA program is not successful. Fletcher said he said the way to learn the answer to that is to ask the farmer himself.

They're criticizing our program but just ask them what their program is, he urged. They haven't one, he declared. The Republicans are looking around now for a candidate and an issue and are having trouble finding both.

Fabian Talks On Budget
Prior to Congressman Fletcher's talk, Councilman Fabian, chair man of the finance committee of council outlined and explained the financial situation of the city and the city budget of operating expenditures. He pointed out that the total budget set up for 1936 amounts to $305,568 and that the estimated total income for next year is $231,000.

All candidates for city offices present were introduced by Chairman Mickey.

Nazis Turn Heat on Jews
To Bar Them From Sports

NOTH. This is the first of two articles describing conditions in Germany as they affect Jewish athletes and athletes who indirectly are in their chance of competing in the Olympics.

By A. D. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff
BERLIN, Oct. 23.—An anti-Semitic offensive against Jews and the approach of the 1936 Olympics throw a sharp light on the position of Jewish athletes in Germany.

Jews are being religiously excluded from the general social and athletic life, while at the same time the Jews themselves are in a position of being brought to bear against semi-sports organizations.

An amount of frank publicity accompanying many aspects of the anti-Semitic campaign—but not the athletic situation. Locals of a Nazi promise that Jews will not be hindered in competing for places in the Jewish Olympic teams.

Pledge To Admit All
A promise given the international Olympic committee that no one in Germany would be barred in any free athletic participation or in any other sport or before the games in 1936 and in German sportsmen have next year Jewish leaders have declared their clubs are suffering from boycotts by Aryan associations and the regulations of Nazi officials.

There are about 5,000 members of Jewish athletic organizations in Germany. About 20,000 of them belong to the German Jewish league founded in 1927 and the rest to the sports association of the national union of Jewish youth founded in 1933.

These two associations consist of about 70 groups most of which include both men and women and which generally have a regular twice weekly for gymnastic, track, swimming, football and tennis training. Two groups in Berlin go in only for boxing.

Barred from Fields
In only a few cases is it a Jewish athlete's field. It is still almost impossible to use the cost of the Jewish league.

Consequently, many Jewish sportsmen have been forced to play in country fields and in places where no facilities are available for many contests such as several track events.

Swimming also is almost impossible to use nearly every municipal pool has adopted regulations banning use of public beaches and resorts by Jews.

The Maccabi and Front Sold in league are responsible to the federal sports leader, Hans von Tschannner and Osten who has issued these regulations.

The formation and continuation of a Jewish sports club are permitted only when there is no conflict with police order involving "state enemies."

Must Link With Society
The clubs must be connected with a recognized workers society. Athletic organizations responsible to von Tschannner and Osten can if deemed desirable look after the interests of the Jewish associations.

The use of public and private pools, halls, courts, tracks and fields is limited by the wishes and plans of schools, with athletic societies of the National League for Exercise and like organizations.

Jewish organizations need not contribute to funds of the league.

Both the number of vehicles crossing at their direction are regulated with a new electric road device for toll bridges.
